International Integrated Reporting Framework

Description / Abstract

The Integrated Reporting Framework is a principles-based, multi-capital, framework that is used to accelerate the adoption of integrated reporting across the world.

Integrated reporting brings together material information about an organization's strategy, governance, performance and prospects in a way that reflects the commercial, social and environmental context within which it operates. It provides a clear and concise representation of how the organization creates value now and in the future.

An integrated report demonstrates the robust integrated thinking of the organization and be informed by comprehensive metrics and disclosure topics via use of the SASB Standards.
