Dr. Solieng Mak: Advancing IWRM and Drought Policy in Cambodia

Description / Abstract

□ The CREWS Interview Series is brought to you on behalf of the SDG 6 IWRM Support Programme, a collaboration between UNEP, UNEP-DHI Centre, Cap-Net and the Global Water Partnership. In this series, we aim to present relevant perspectives from stakeholders involved in action planning to advance Integrated Water Resources Management, in the context of SDG 6.

In this episode of the CREWS Interview Series, Dr. Solieng Mak, Chairperson of GWP Cambodia, discusses Cambodia's efforts in implementing Integrated Water Resource Management (IWRM) and drought policies under the CREWS initiative. She highlights the importance of cross-sectoral collaboration and shares insights from the Regional Learning Exchange Workshop on addressing water management challenges.
